

A counselor and judge in times of peace, Deborah became an inspiring leader in a time of war. Here she instructs the military man Barak to lead the Israelites in battle against the Canaanites, who had long oppressed her people.