

As the Underwing moth flies, its pink and black bands are seen. When it rests on an orchard trunk only the barktoned forewings show.