

God made the world in which we live.