

Neil Armstrong with Edwin Aldrin and Michael Collins took the first small step in the exploration of space. On July 20, 1969 Armstrong became the first human being to set foot on a world other than ours