

CICADA

The Cicada is an insect that lives underground for 17 years!

It is the loudest insect in the world
and can drown out the sound of a lawnmower.

The cicada has two drum-like chambers in its body
called "timbals" that make the sound.

Though the cicada may look mean with its big, red eyes,
it is harmless to everything but very small trees.

Color me green
brown, and yellow,
with red eyes!
