

Esther packs her meager belongings and prepares to leave for the palace. She promises her uncle Mordecai to be on her best behaviour and to keep secret the fact that she is a Jew.

