

Ashikaga Period (1338–1573)

The ceremonial costume worn by this court lady is comprised of many silk robes which have been layered.

Each robe has very wide sleeves; the bow at her waist has long, flowing ends which trail to the floor.