

Cut out the shapes, put the title page on top, and staple them together in a book in chronological order. On the title page, draw a picture of what you think the golden image looked like. On the inside, answer the questions.

