

The apostle John was imprisoned on an island called Patmos, where he saw a vision from God that became the book of Revelation.