

Cherokee Rose

- The name "Cherokee Rose" is the name given to the rose by the people in the area. The name was inspired by the native Cherokee peoples who widely distributed the plant.
- Waxy white flowers bloom each spring on very thorny bushes.
- The Cherokee Rose was made the state flower of Georgia in 1916.