

When the stepmother and father left, the children tried to follow the crumbs back home, but the birds had eaten them. Hansel and Gretel were lost!