

Jesus went up into a mountain and called unto Him those whom He would. There He ordained twelve, that they should be with Him.