

Large, meat-eating Allosaurus lived in North America during the Jurassic Period. It was a fierce predator that walked on its two powerful hind legs, and probably ate medium-sized dinosaurs such as Stegosaurus. The small, flying Pterosaur is a reptile closely related to the dinosaur. Pterosaurs ranged in size from several inches up to forty feet long.