

Europe

The capital city, London, sits on the banks of the Thames River. England is made up of large cities, rural wheat fields, rocky coastlines and historic villages and castles.