

RaisingOurKids.com

The mother and father deer stand on a high cliff. They watch the little fawn make friends with other forest babies just learning to walk and fly.