

On Christmas night, 1776, Washington's army crossed the Delaware River, made a surprise attack, and took a thousand prisoners.