

During the building of the Panama Canal, Marines were stationed there.