

The apostles were often imprisoned by their enemies. Once when Peter and John were in prison God sent an angel by night to release them.