

But just at that moment, her father rushed in! He rescued Red Riding Hood, killed the wolf so that the grandmother was found alive and well in the closet, and they all went home happily together.