

Police used tear gas, whips, and clubs to stop them, and this event became known as Bloody Sunday. The Voting Rights Act was passed in response to the march.

From Dover Publications' History of the Civil Rights Movement Coloring Book