

White Trillium

- The white trillium blooms in Ontario in late April and early May.
- The white trillium grows in deciduous forests and woodland areas.
- It starts out white, but as it gets old it begins to turn pink. After it blooms, red berries form. These berries ripen to a blue-black color.
- It was made the provincial flower in 1937.