

Centaur: Centaurs had the upper body of a man and the lower body of a horse. They were demi-gods who taught heroes how to ride horses and use bows and arrows. They were considered to be wise, patient and brave.