

Captain Kidd, a British navigator born in Scotland, was commissioned to suppress the piracy on the seas, but was called a pirate.