

In every province and city, the Hebrews feasted and rejoiced when they learned they had been saved.