

About 100 people had sets when the first commercial radio broadcast was made in 1920.