

Denmark is the world's largest pork exporter. They raise about 24 million pigs per year - that's a lot of pigs, considering there are only about 5 and a half million people in the country!