

The Coliseum, one of the famous buildings of ancient Rome, was used for games and wild beast shows. During the persecutions of the Christians, it is believed that many Christians were killed there.