

Florida has more than 1,260 miles of coastline. The beach and dune system found along most of Florida's coast can be changed by wind, waves, tides, and storms.