

Common Meadow Violet

- The Common Meadow Violet has blue-purple blooms from April through June.
- The Common Meadow Violet (Viola sororia) was first considered the official state flower of New Jersey in 1913, but it wasn't finally declared such until 1971.